"There will be too much cold turkey in Portland for the next few days to permit of a demand for chicken," one dealer said "and so we may have to sell at a sacrifice in order to move what cops have come in this week."

In the opinion of some dealers, better prices will prevail before the season has passed, but these dealers do not look for high prices. They indicate that 12c or possibly 14c, may rule before the entire crop of Oregon has been disposed of.

"Brewers realize that the bottom has been truck n the Oregon hop market," said McKinley Mitchell today, "and they have become anxious to buy. Some brokers have told them that they need be in no hurry, as hops would go still lower in Oregon. These same dealers now realize that they have yailed a little too long."
